LAWRENCE PRESENTS
HIS VIEWS ON POLLS

Lawrence presents his views on polls. The Digest gets an average return of 27 to 33 per cent. How then to account for it? It is possible that the Democratic organization in Maryland which has a precinct set up that is very effective sent word to the precinct captains to be sure and get out the vote for the Sun poll. It would be excellent strategy psychologically. No matter what the explanation of the unusual response however I believe the Baltimore Sun poll does indicate a Roosevelt victory in Maryland, but I will not be surprised if the majority is far less than the recent poll would seem to indicate. While the Digest poll shows a substantial trend to Roosevelt in Maryland it is not anywhere as big as the Baltimore Sun canvass.

any statistical experience. People just do not respond to mailed circulars on a 50 per cent basis unless there's something given away or offered free in the letters in response to any large mailing of a questionnaire. The highest I have ever heard of is around 25 to 30 per cent. The Literary Digest has had big mailings and has polled large numbers of registered voters in other election years with no such result as 50 per cent in Maryland or anywhere else. The Digest gets an average return of 27 to 33 per cent.

CHURCHES PLAN FOR RALLY DAY

A rally day combined service starting at 9:30 a. m. will be conducted Sunday at the Salem Evangelical and Reformed church at Reech Rev. C. A. Ramer, pastor will preach in the morning on Let's Go. The speaker at night will be Estle I. Jobe of West Union formerly of Marion.

FLETCHER TO GIVE
SPEECH IN LARUE

Open Air Meeting Set for Saturday Night

Congressman Brooks Fletcher will speak at an open air meeting in Larue Saturday night on "Why I Am for Adequate Old Age Pensions Based on Common Sense" and again Wednesday night at the Central Junior High school on "What Everybody in Marion County Wants to Know." Mrs. Fletcher will appear on the program with a musical prelude a short address and an original poem.

The congressman Wednesday night spoke at Fulton and Marion on opening his speaking campaign in Morrow county. In comment on the old age pension plan he asserted payment of the proposed $200 a month to persons 65 years of age and older would cost $17,668,000,000. At present all federal taxes in the last fiscal year amounted only to $4,116,000, he said, emphasizing the bigness of the amount that would be required for the pension plan.

FAIR ARRANGEMENTS
STARTED FOR 1937

Although still working on the compilation of prizes and awards for the fair just ended Aultman Raub secretary of the Marion county fair board is beginning to arrange the 1937 event. He said today. Dates for next year's fair have been set for Sept. 14-19 inclusive. The 1937 show will be the 87th in the history of Marion county. Mr. Raub said he expects to have the awards for this year worked out by Saturday.

DEMOCRATS HOLD RALLY AT WALDO

Carl W. Smith of Kenton and W. J. Kennedy of Cleveland Speak.

Between 200 and 350 persons attended the first of two countywide Democratic rallies last night at Waldo. Cold weather forced the leaders to change their plans for holding the meeting out of doors and the program was given in the village hall.

Carl W. Smith of Kenton former secretary to Gov. George White and present secretary of the state board of parole spoke on the records of the national and state administration and William J. Kennedy of Cleveland Democratic candidate for secretary of state also spoke on national and state issues.

R. M. Wilhelm of Marion introduced the speakers. Herbert Krebs president of the Marion County Democratic club also attended.

The second of the countywide meetings will be held Oct. 17 at Prospect at which John W. Sweeney candidates for congressmen at large and Congressman Brooke Fletcher will be the speakers.

went to an academy. Dr. Bull said the other day.

School officials accustomed to the alphabet vocabularies of a majority of their pupils are doubly impressed with June because of what they term almost perfect English beautifully spoken. Her principal W. E. O'Leary expressed the sentiment I wish half of my boys and girls were half as intelligent.

Obstacles Overcome

Mrs. Robbins who is visiting Dr. Bull while June is being educated into public school life radiates the spark of the pioneer mother as she modestly talks of the obstacles she faces in giving her five children an education.

Their father is a section foreman for the Canadian National railway and while he keeps his family in comfort he cannot send his children to college for their education. Although the family has lived in the region distant from schools and in their present home in the Okanogan fruit valley region they are 24 miles from Kamloops the nearest city and two miles from their nearest neighbor.

Rather than sacrifice her child's education Mrs. Robbins enrolled June in the government school and then took up the task of teaching the lessons sent out from Victoria.

These were times, she said the other day when she felt that June was getting nothing from the lessons that it was useless for her to attempt to teach her daughter, for that nothing she had done was proving of real value to the girl.

But in all this changed now and the showing that June has made in Marion schools has inspired the mother to new energy in her home teaching of a daughter, Hazel who is a fifth year pupil and two other children, George and Beryl who are fourth year pupils. Next year the fifth child Ralph will begin his first year of study.

The mother herself never had public school training beyond the eighth grade but by dint of endless hours of teaching she has cultivated her mind and prepared herself for the double job of mother and teacher.

All her children are bookworms she says. One way in which she has added infinitely to their store of knowledge is by willing to the libraries of large cities books for the books which have become worn for circulation. Several times a year a package of from 50 to 100 of the library books comes to the Robbins home to be delivered to the children and their mother and then sent to other families in the region.

For the last several years Mrs. Robbins has been a correspondent for the Kamloops Sentinel gathering her news in a spot where a reporter has to be on his toes in this instance—less to make any kind of a showing in that remote territory at a space rate of $1 a column she managed to turn in $15 worth of printable items last year.

In Cleveland on her way back home Mrs. Robbins will visit her brother, Roy Montgomery, whom she had never seen until five years ago when their grandmother's death reunited his wandering life. Because of their mother's poor health when he was born—one of eight children—he was adopted by a relative and no one knew where he was except the grandmother. The brothers and a sister first saw each other six years ago in Vancouver.

Mrs. Robbins was born in Toronto her parents were natives of London Ontario and her grandparents were born in England. Her husband is a native of Marion, Ohio. D. is now a university graduate. Until 22 years ago she had never seen her cousin William F. Bull of 285 South High street and recently she had her first meeting with two other cousins, Dr. J. W. Bull of 198 West Church street and W. Warren Bull of 192 East Cumbria street.

call themselves Progressives and put the stamp of approval upon the new deal receive the strength and the power of the so-called Democratic administration?

How about the Democratic newspapers? The Lord knows there are not many of them in the United States north of the Mason and Dixon line but within the last two weeks four of the most prominent moderate newspapers that stood behind the Democratic party in season and out of season victory or defeat have declared in their columns that they have gone as far as it is possible for them to go with the new deal administration.

What about the Democratic senators? There are about seven or eight of them down in Washington that on the floor of the senate read more caustic and more bitter things about the new deal than I have as far and tonight or that I even intend to say.

Let's have just one of them United States Senator Glass of Virginia. Here is what he says. The new deal taken all in all is not only a mistake it is in danger to the nation and the time is not far distant when we shall be ashamed of having wondered so far from the dictates of common sense and common humanity. If it were not for so many people who depend upon me and by that I do not mean my family I would rather have died than lived to see the disgrace of this era.

What about all the men who started out with the new deal and couldn't last any longer?

There is a long list of them that would take me a long while beginning with Peck and you read Peck's story in the Saturday Evening Post and you have something worth while spending an afternoon reading. Read what Jim Warburg said and he was a trusted financial adviser and was a delegate from the committee to the monetary conference in London and above all things he is sure to read what Douglas said who was the director of the budget.

Well we are coming near the end of the radio time. Let me just say this. If the administration in Washington no matter what it decides to call itself has lived up to that Democratic platform that was adopted in Chicago in 1932, and if it had remained lived in the principles of Jefferson that have kept the Democratic party alive in this country after one bitter defeat after another if the President himself had made good on his promises I would not new deal government an imposing serious penalties on the U. S. farmer. # Mouser Makes Challenge

Mr. Mouser of Marion Republican candidate for congress from the Eighth district challenged his Democratic opponent Brooks Fletcher also of Marion to make known to the public whether he supports President Roosevelt or William Lemke the Union party candidate who has the endorsement of the National Union for Social Justice. He attacked the record of Congressman Fletcher and asserted that the Marion man with a reputation for being a silver tongued orator had never exercised his prerogative in the halls of congress to make a speech. Only one address not given in congress of Congressman Fletcher gives the pages of the Congressional Record during his eight years in the office. Mr. Mouser declared.

The meeting here declared the most successful ever held in this locality was provided for by Clara once M. Green Kenton attorney. He introduced the county candidates for office. D. A. Lippitt of Belle Center candidate for state senator Harry S. Day candidate for reelection as state treasurer Roy H. Williams candidate for reelection as judge of the Ohio supreme court and Thomas H. Herberich candidate for attorney general.

Mrs. Edgar Littleton chairman of the Hardin County Republican Women and F. R. Welby chairman of the county C. P. finance committee spoke briefly. Music was furnished by the Urbana colored sextet which sang a group of Landon Knox and Bricker songs.

W. A. RITTERSPACH DIES OF INJURIES

Wandol Co. Farmer Succumbs in Special Hospital

NEVADA, Oct. 2—William A. Ritterbach 60 of southeast of here died of injuries suffered in an automobile accident at Point Place near Bayview Sept. 16. He was taken to the hospital at Bayview yesterday afternoon in the Bayview City hospital. He was a farmer and for the last several years was engaged in the three-story business. Survived by his wife Mrs. Iva Ritterbach and two sons Dan and Wayne H. at home. Three sisters Mrs. Minnie Gordon Mrs. Iva Case and Miss Iona Ritterbach and a brother Lester all of south of Nevada reside.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the Bender & Lucas funeral home in Nevada and burial will be made in the cemetery here. The body may be viewed at the funeral home. Friends are asked to omit flowers.

be on this platform tonight. There would be no coalition of American women opposing the national administration. I know where I would be I would be in the national Democratic committee headquarters where I have been for so many years ready to battle for success but I can't see how anybody can expect me to battle or even battle for or even defend a failure.

Here we are up to us necks in debt 22,000,000,000 getting government relief. Millions out of employment the farm problem unsolved. After all the power and all the money spent we find ourselves where? On the dead end street called failure dismal dull dark drear failure.

Criticizing the new deal legislative procedure Smith said it is a matter of record that in the conference with the newspaper boys the President himself pointed to the public that he said were on the verge of disaster. That is something congress must do just consider for a moment the independent of the legislative branch of our government. Our representatives live the people who are speaking for us are told what they must do.

If the AAA NRA the Guffey coal bill the Bankhead cotton act the hot oil bill and the rest of the unconstitutional enactments were nullified if they were good why is it that the new deal does submit an amendment to the Constitution of the United States so that they could be legally and properly enacted.

Gives Own Answer

I ask the question and I will answer it myself. The answer to that question is that the new deal was entirely unwilling to meet the issue of states rights. They preferred to go up a dark alley and do it under cover and do it in spite of and not with the consent of the peoples Constitution.

Just a little passing reference for the record here I have this question of business executives. Let's remind the enthusiastic speakers for the new deal that they find it very convenient to forget that the present chief executive whenever he earned a dollar out of his public salary he earned it as a lawyer and as a corporation agent (this in the Wall Street district).

Smith's address was made under the auspices of the Independent Coalition of American Women a pro-Landon organization. For the most part it was a recital of his association with the Democratic party in the state and nation and with the President a recital of his criticism of the new deal. Smith's declaration of support for the Landon governor came at the end of his half hour speech.

I am an American before I am a Democrat before I am a Republican before I am anything.

Never Ducked Issue

I have never in my long public career ducked dodged or pussy footed. I have never found fault with anything unless I was prepared to suggest a remedy and while I may differ on matters of traditional party policy I regard these things in the circle of today as merely my own.

I am satisfied as in the basic and fundamental needs of the country sound and trustworthy and I can be relied upon to check and preserve the great principles upon which the country was founded and without which in my belief it cannot endure.

I firmly believe that the remedy for all the ills that we are suffering from today is the election of Alf Landon.

lional billiard loaned to Europe during the war.

Declaring the national income had risen from $48,000,000,000 in 1932 to $55,000,000,000 last year and may go above $60,000,000,000 in 1936 he concluded.

If it keeps on rising at the present rate as I am confident it will—the receipts of the government without imposing any additional taxes will within a year or two be sufficient to care for all ordinary and relief expenses of the government—in other words to balance the annual budget.

The government of this great nation solvent sound in credit is coming through a crisis as grave as war without having sacrificed American democracy or the ideals of American life.

Turning to this football fever about the crushing load the debt will impose upon your children and mine he started a loud demonstration by declaring.

This debt is not going to be paid by oppressive taxation on future generations. It is not going to be paid by taking away the hard-earned savings of the present generation.

It is going to be paid out of an increased national income and increased individual income produced by increasing national productivity.

welfare of the "forget-me-nots" in its community is also related to the welfare of disabled veterans throughout the country as influenced by the national policies of the veterans administration concerning veteran benefits.

It would of course be impossible for the Marion chapter to maintain its own representative in Washington in look out for the interests of Marion's disabled veterans. The same is true of every other local chapter. Therefore we pool a portion of our respective incomes through our national headquarters office in Cincinnati and for the purpose we remit to Cincinnati 50 per cent of the net proceeds of our Forget-Me-Not sale drive out of which the national office maintains a national rehabilitation chairman and several assistants in Washington and also maintains a nationally paid rehabilitation officer in the regional office at Cleveland.

In this manner that portion of the net proceeds of our Forget-Me-Not sale which we send to our national headquarters office in Marion through increased benefits for disabled veterans furnishing Marion with divided returns on its service investment of several thousand dollars per year.

Mayor Loderick C. Smith and the various veterans organizations and auxiliaries of the city have given their unanimous endorsement of the Forget-Me-Not sale.

LICENSE PLATE PRICES REDUCED

Available Now at Half of Years Cost

Auto license plates are available at half price now at the offices of the Marion Auto club in East Center street. M. E. Baldwin deputy registrar of motor vehicles announced Motorists with cars of less than 24 horsepower may purchase plates for $3.50 compared to $7.00 in the second quarter of the license year 25 to 31 horsepower $5.00 against $7.50 in the second period and 31 horsepower autos require plates costing $8.50 as compared with the former $12 price.

Truck and trailer licenses have been similarly reduced in price he said but they cannot be obtained at the local office. The procedure is to apply for a truck or trailer license at the auto club and the plates will be mailed to the applicant from Columbus. B. W. Wain said.

ing out that 96 per cent of all persons civic and imprisoned ultimately return to society. He advised extensive use of probation for first offenders.

From his contact with nearly 50,000 juvenile offenders, Rev. Mackey said he has concluded that first offenders and those guilty of minor offenses should never have been sent to prison.

If they had been given a chance to make good been placed under the careful supervision of competent probation officers society would never have heard of them again as criminals, he declared.

He pictured an ideal prison as one in which criminals are classified and segregated where men were given enough work to do to keep them from becoming demoralized where play is provided for and where discipline is tempered by human justice. If a man is treated like a brute he becomes a brute, Rev. Mackey believed.

He closed with an appeal to teachers and parents to consider the fact that the inmates of prisons in 1936 are the school children of today—and mostly the trouble some children.

Mrs. Ethel Peters Simons of Columbus extension secretary of the Y. A. outlined programs for successful associations and urged a more militant attitude against social problems.

Hudson Voices Warning

Superintendent C. A. Hudson introduced the speakers and advised the audience of the danger facing the state school foundation which he described as the result of the past piece of legislation in 20 years.

Repeal of the state sales tax on food in November would virtually halt grants by the foundation and incidentally endanger payment of $50,000 pledged local schools by the foundation he said.

Selections by the Harding High school orchestra under the direction of Homer E. Huffman music supervisor opened the evening session.

Discussions of policy and planning for the coming year occupied the afternoon session. Conference by state officials and designed to aid new officials of Marion groups were also a feature.

Those taking part in the day session were: Mrs. Captain Stickle of the Marion post of the Salvation Army; invocation Mrs. Walter Shively Marion council president; introduction Mrs. Andrew Rawson of LaGrange district director; O. # PAYROLLS CONTINUE TO INCREASE IN OHIO

(By The Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, Oct. 2—Payrolls continue to expand the federal reserve bank of Cleveland said today in its monthly review of fourth district business with shortages of highly skilled workers still reported in some industries.

While production rates in lines allied with the automobile industry declined slightly in late August the bank said the period of reduced operations was relatively short and in mid-September most plants were again working at about the level prevailing before the curtailment.

Industries not particularly connected with automobile production reported little change from the relatively favorable conditions reported a month ago. Inventories are not excessive and numerous plant expansions and rebuilding programs have been reported in industrial centers.

The bank said business continued in favorable volume in the latter part of August and the first half of September at substantially the highest level of the recovery movement. Industrial employment was greater in August than in July in Akron Canton Dayton Columbus Pittsburgh Pa. and Springfield but decreased in Cleveland and Toledo because of the reduced requirements for auto materials during the change-over to new models.

Retail trade in the district which includes all of Ohio increased from July to August by more than the seasonal amount and the gain in dollar volume from last year at that time was 12 per cent, said the report.

The officials said they would cooperate with police and juvenile court authorities who are investigating the case to determine whether to issue a warrant for abandonment.

MORROW CO. FAIR ATTENDANCE LARGE

Crowd on Opening Day Nearly Double That of Last Year.

Special to The Star
MT. GILEAD, Oct. 2—More than 1,500 people visited the more than 2,000 exhibits and attended the race program on the opening day of the annual Morrow county fair yesterday. The crowd was nearly double that of the first day last year and this year's program promises to be one of the best in recent years fair board officials said today.

An accident marred the racing program yesterday when P. Carey driver of Alice Wyn suffered an injury to one of his legs when a wheel on his sulky care of at the three-quarter pole on the first lap of the third heat of the 2-6 race. Carey had won the first heat and came in fourth in the second heat of the race.

Three acts scheduled for this afternoon's program and three for the closing day Saturday.

Today was designated as school day and children of the county and village schools are being admitted to the fair free of charge. J. C. Eckert is president of the fair board and F. E. Rinehart secretary.

chandise and to take advantage of the numerous suggestions and ideas which will be offered through the display in the Marion stores. If on the other hand you do need a new bedroom suite or a new davenport or occasional chair this is the ideal time to pick it out. Not only will you have the cream of the new designs to choose from but prices are lower than they are likely to be a few months or even a few weeks hence. Production costs and labor costs and taxes are definitely on the upgrade, with rising prices the inevitable result.

Model rooms ensemble groupings and decoration ideas form an important part of the exhibit in all the stores. Room planning services and aid in budgeting either for a room or the entire home are offered visitors during the style show. If you are looking for ideas you will find your favorite furniture or department store a veritable gold mine. You'll find new ways to make your home more comfortable—new ways of re-arranging your rooms—of freshening them up with new ideas or new furniture or both. The secret of a charming home does not depend alone on the amount of money spent for the furnishings. A little money invested in a well planned furnishing program will work wonders in rejuvenating an old fashioned home. It is in developing such a furnishing and decoration program that the style show will be most valuable.

Up to Date
The home furnishings which will be displayed during the fashion exhibit on arrival in Marion on recent and will be shown here for the first time during National Furniture week. A preview of the new merchandise which was selected by dealers at the recent furniture markets held in the nation's various furniture centers reveals many new departures in design. The home which was furnished a few years ago is as much out of date today as a model T Ford.

Modern Vogue
Modern designs are particularly prominent this year especially in dining room and bedroom furnishings. Fifteenth century English patterns, principally the early Georgian and Chippendale are nearly as popular although Early American and the provincial patterns are less conspicuous than previously. Kitchens have gone completely streamlined—refriger-

"OLD VIRGINIA" STYLE STAGES COMEBACK

A modern sofa and chair typical of the new styles being displayed by merchants of this community during National Furniture week. The striped chenille tapestry tailored to the contours of the suite give it a definite tone. Stream lines in the two tables and the chevron stripe in the floor covering all contribute to the successful ensemble as do the Venetian blinds and the fluffy fringed taffeta draperies.

ators, ranges, cabinets and even breakfast sets. Among the woods walnut appears to be the reigning favorite, although mahogany is staging a strong comeback. Solid woods are displacing veneers in many lines. It is reported several of the lighter shade woods, such as aspen, satinwood, bleached mahogany and blonde walnut are being extensively used in occasional pieces which give colorful contrasts when combined with darker finishes of larger pieces.

New Colors
Held in hand with the modern movement and influence has come an increased use of color in the home. Many of the new suites are decorated and trimmed with bright wood grains and colors. In floor coverings, intricate heavily patterned designs are giving way to simpler brighter colors. Red is getting into nearly everything—floor coverings, draperies, lamps and upholstery fabrics. Orange and yellow are almost equally prominent. Cheerfulness is the dominant note in the 1933 decoration plan.

Cooperating with the furniture stores of Marion and the nation in presenting a unit Furniture week are the National Association of Furniture Manufacturers, the National Retail Furniture Association, the National Dry Goods Association, the Southern Furniture Manufacturers Association, the National Wholesale Furniture Association and the Institute of Carpet Manufacturers.

UPSIDE DOWN TEST DETERMINES MERIT

The upside down test should always be applied to a new chair before purchase. Most good furniture is well finished on the bottom. This applies also to a chest of drawers or other large pieces. Pull it away from the wall and the hidden side will usually betray the true workmanship and quality of the piece.

Woods Should Be Chosen for Harmony of Color and Style

When a new bedroom suite, dining room suite, or occasional chair is constructed of mahogany, walnut, maple or any other kind of wood is largely a matter of preference although a heterogeneous mixing of woods is likely to result in a discordant effect which destroys completely the character and personality of the room itself. The dominant color scheme or tone of a room is set by the kind of wood used in the furnishings just as much as by the color of the wall paper, the floor coverings or the draperies. The ultimate charm of any ensemble is dependent upon a harmonious combination of woods.

Choose Pieces That Harmonize
The modern idea in decoration is to choose groups or individual pieces which are sufficiently alike in wood, proportion and construction to insure harmony, as well as suit the tastes and preferences of the homeowner. The architectural features of the room in which the furniture is to be used must also be taken into consideration. The does not mean that all of the formal furniture in a room must be of the same material or even design, although it is preferable that one shade predominate. Many light woods for instance such as aspen, satinwood, bleached mahogany and blonde walnut are gaining favor particularly for occasional pieces for accent in the style scheme. Without some contrast any room would seem flat and colorless.

Just now walnut is the favorite cabinet wood. Its adaptability to modern is particularly marked, although it is widely used in Early American, 18th Century, English, French Colonial and Early English styles. Mahogany ranks as second favorite according to style experts being used most in the 18th Century and Colonial design. Maple is still tops in Early American and ranks third in modern.

Solid Woods Used
An interesting development is the increased use of solid woods, especially walnut and mahogany. The preference for solid walnut construction is particularly marked in Early American.

An accurate picture of the trend in wood preference is indicated in the percentages of the various materials used in dining room and bedroom suites shown at the summer furniture markets which were held at the various furniture centers throughout the country. A survey of the exhibits showed the

FLOOR FITTING RUGS URGED BY STYLISTS

Size Just as Important as Color and Pattern

Correct size is just as important as correct color and pattern when you choose a rug or carpet. The size of the floor covering can make your room look larger or smaller completely or especially furnished.

One reason so many of the best interior decorators prefer solid color broadloom carpets is that with broadloom you can cover a floor completely and provide a quiet, restful, finished-looking background for furniture and accessories. Broadloom carpet, woven in 9-12, 15, and sometimes even in 18-foot widths comes in long rolls which can be cut to any desired length. Hence for the extra long or odd-sized room it is the perfect selection.

Whether or not you carpet the room from baseboard to baseboard or leave a narrow border of floor all around is a matter of personal preference. Most people who live in apartments or in rented houses feel it is more economical not to lay the carpet from wall to wall but to have it cut and bound as a rug so that it may be taken up and moved easily.

Latest in Radio Models Offered by Dealers Here

FOUR SUITS FILED AGAINST RAILROAD

$38,000 Compensation Sought for Accident in Delaware

Special to The Star
DELAWARE, O., Oct. 2—Four suits totaling $38,000 have been filed in the Delaware common pleas court against the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad as the outcome of a truck-freight train accident Oct. 2, 1934, in Delaware. George Bernard, John Peters and Orland Anderson, all of Akron, seek $20,000, $2,500 and $15,000 respectively and the B. F. Goodrich Co. of Akron asks $1,000.

Plaintiffs contend the railroad failed to abide by a city ordinance which provides that it shall be unlawful to operate a train through the corporation limits at a speed in excess of six miles an hour and also contend that the defendant was negligent in that it failed to erect or maintain gates, automatic alarm bells, lights or mechanical devices at the crossing. Bernard and Anderson claim personal injury damages, Peters, owner of the truck, is seeking compensation for damage to his truck, and the Goodrich company is asking compensation for damage to the truck cargo.

Comfort, Convenience Equally Important in Bedroom; Good Beds, Ample Storage Space First Requisites

Monies, proverbially preferred have apparently lost none of their popularity at least in the new furniture style. Here is a modern bedroom suite in blonde maple which is typical of the recent trend to lighter woods and finishes. These bleached shades offer a sharp contrast to the traditional bedroom woods such as mahogany, walnut and maple and being particularly adaptable to modern design are more prominent this season than ever before.

Although convenience may be the greatest attribute of a kitchen and comfort the first consideration in the living room, there can be no doubt that comfort and convenience are each equally essential in that most intimate sanctum of the home, the bedroom. Here is the one room which more than any other should be designed and furnished with functional values in ways in mind. Whether it be the master's bedroom or the guest room, we should never lose sight of the fact that the room is used principally and almost exclusively for dressing, sleep and quiet repose. All of the furnishings should facilitate a greater enjoyment of these hours we spend in the bedroom.

Considering the fact that most of us spend approximately one third of our lives sleeping (eight hours out of each twenty-four) the value of a good bed is apparent. Not only our good health but our good looks too experts tell us depend in large measure on the quality as well as the quantity of the sleep we get. A good mattress and a good spring must then form the bed of essentials for the modern bedroom. Poor sleeping equipment not only robs us of sound enjoyable rest but is most always a bad investment as well. Shoddy mattresses and springs wear out and lose their shape quickly requiring frequent replacement.

Choice of Beds Optional
The choice of twin or double beds remains one of individual preference although the size of the bedroom and the layout plan must be taken into consideration as well as the extra cost in linen and laundry involved with twin beds in either case however must considerate suites include in addition a dresser, dressing table and chest of drawers. A recent caper which is gaining momentum in the practice of making up an individualized suite composed of a choice of related items best suited to the needs of the purchaser. This is called the unit system under which the purchaser selects his own pieces from a wide assortment which are styled to harmonize. In bedroom lines, for example, four or five chests may be provided, any of which are designed to harmonize with a certain bed. This flexibility of selection enables the homemaker to inject more individuality into her bedroom furnishings since she is permitted to virtually make up her own suite. Extra chests also may be added to provide additional dressing space a proverbial necessity in the bedroom.

An interesting trend in bedroom lines is the discarding of the extra or six drawers in favor of a more practical arrangement for more clothing. Some drawers remain but the other space is used for built compartments a series of smaller drawers for handkerchiefs, collar buttons and other odds and ends which in the past have had to be tucked away in odd corners of a dresser or chest. This new arrangement also provides a most interesting extra for the dresser.

Accessory Add Comfort
Giving the functional ideal a little further the modern bedroom should include such accessories as a small radio and a comfortable chair—perhaps a rocker or a lounge in a bedside table and reading lamp. These little extras add considerably to the homeliness and comfort of the room. Mirrors too are an essential which not only add to the room's attractiveness but should be supplemented by at least one smaller glass especially if two people occupy the room. It is impossible for two people to dress before one mirror at the same time and it is just these little inconveniences which may spoil an otherwise charming bedroom.

The graceful 18th Century style has styles—Heppelwhite, Sheraton, etc.—have been making a strong bid for popularity this season with modern, clean, a close second. Any of these styles fit well into the informal bedroom. Early American and French provincial those (friendly) favorites are still as good as new although the present trend seems a little more in the direction of the quiet elegance of the English style than toward the simplicity of the provincial designs.

Advise Budgeting of Funds for Household Furnishings

A well furnished home does not necessarily require a huge expenditure of money for it is more a matter of careful application of a selection which determines the results than the amount of the funds available. It is surprising the remarkable job which can be done with very modest sums. If investment is carefully budgeted without such a program to guide expenditures the possibility of overspending in one room or part of the home at the expense of another is always a hazard which it is easier to prevent than to cure. The whole plan of the furnishing budget should be elastic enough to allow for special needs and tastes. It should nevertheless be closely adhered to if the desired results are to be obtained on any given amount.

Various authorities on home management in America, including Thomas in America, an educational organization recommend that approximately 25 per cent of the cost of the home be spent on home furnishings. Hence a $10,000 home would require about $2,500 to furnish properly an amount which is not at all out of proportion when one considers that furnishings are certainly as important as the building itself in the creation of the home. In apartments and rental homes the amount to be used for furnishings is not so easily determined but must be decided largely by financial ability. Home-making experts generally recommend that something in the neighborhood of seven to eleven per cent of the family income should be set aside for furniture and home furnishings—at least in the beginning.

MIRRORS REFLECT A HOME'S GOOD TASTE

Less homes have enough mirrors especially in the bedroom is a sure great convenience when two people occupy the room. Where there are children in the house a special mirror hung at proper height gives a long way toward encouraging greater care and neatness in dress.

UPHOLSTERY QUALITY INSIDE FURNITURE

Many Invisible Parts Important in Life and Usefulness of Pieces

When you buy a new automobile you can lift the hood to see the construction and condition of the motor but when you purchase a new day-night or easy chair you can't pull off the covering to see the inner construction of the piece. Yet the wear and satisfaction you may hope to get from the new day-night is just as dependent upon the inside as the performance of a motor car is dependent upon the efficiency of the motor under its hood. For that reason it is well to always carefully inspect a piece of upholstered furniture before buying it.

Inside Story
Two chairs of almost identical design and covering very often vary as much as $50 or $75 in price depending upon the inner construction, the materials used and the quality of workmanship.

Before buying upholstered furniture the shopper will do well to inspect as far as possible the outer construction and to inquire about the hidden parts. There are eight separate and distinct parts to every first class upholstered piece. They are: (1) the wood frame; (2) a textile fabric wood or metal base; (3) the stuffing (this may be of any of a number of materials although curled hair is preferred); (4) tempered steel wire spring tied with stout twines (at least eight ties to each spring); (5) an additional layer of fabric to keep the stuffing in place; (6) an additional layer of stuffing added to the fabric; (7) a layer of cotton covering, stuffing; and (8) the outer covering material.

Good Filler
The resiliency and shape of upholstered furniture is largely dependent upon the type of filler used and the firmness of it. Some upholstered furniture is made of used hair and other substances which have lost all their springiness. The customer should be sure she is receiving new material—filler if she is paying for them. It pays to ask the salesman for the inside story.

PRIVACY OUR POPULAR
Primitive log cabin furniture of oak joined together has an atmosphere about it which boys love and it is indeed a most practical choice for their rooms. It can take it.

ALWAYS AN EXTRA BED

No matter how small the house or apartment there is no longer any need for being without extra sleeping accommodations. Made up for double use this twin studio couch upholstered in figured black Persian fur with chrome arms and base is the last word in modern convenience.

Good Mattress and Springs Essential for Sound Sleep

There is no room in the house where comfort is so essential and so dependent on particular pieces of furniture as in the bedroom. Days it is said depend upon nights. So the selection of a good mattress and a good spring becomes one of the most important duties of the homemaker. Obviously it is false economy to choose either at a price which precludes good quality. Not only will it be short-lived but it never will even at the outset, be comfortable.

Choice between twin and double beds for the room occupied by husband and wife depends upon individual preference—and the size of the bedroom. To be sure that there is room for twin beds measure the spaces in which you plan to place them. Although twin beds are likely to be more comfortable the second bed mattress and springs must be paid for and the upkeep will be somewhat lighter on account of the additional bed linen and laundry required.

Since most bedroom furniture comes in suites, besides the bed or beds a dresser, dressing table and chest of drawers are offered the buyer. A major requirement for orderliness being that one have a place for everything. It may be a great advantage to have all three of these pieces.

If the room is small however this is not advised. An essential is that the two occupants have plenty of room to dress perhaps to dress in a hurry. Door and window spaces must not be blocked.

Except in a large and formal house or apartment furnished in sophisticated style bedroom furniture is best in a somewhat informal style. Early American and French provincial have been used a great deal in recent years. Modern Heppelwhite and Sheraton styles—all rather slight and graceful pieces—are more in harmony with this particular season's trend toward greater elegance.

Give Individual Touch
Persons with a prejudice against furniture in suites can avoid them and develop for themselves rooms of individual charm by selecting a highboy in place of a chest by using a jewelry box for a dressing table. A draped dressing table also may contribute besides a personal touch grace and lovely color to a bedroom.

Mirrors at least two if the room is occupied by two people are necessities. Ideally one should be full length. A bedside table with a lamp on it is one of the essentials. Other pieces of furniture which make for full enjoyment of the privacy which in the usual modern house only a bedroom affords are

FOLDING BRIDGE SET PUT TO MANY USES

There is probably no piece of furniture in the home which has so many convenient uses as a folding bridge table. In addition to serving as the battle ground for an occasional evening game, it makes an excellent play table for the kiddies and a good writing desk for homework after school. It also serves as a first rate serving table.

DRAPERIES CREATE TRAP FOR ANY ROOM

No matter how beautiful or suitable the furniture in a room may be all may be spoiled by poor drapery selections. They contribute the finishing touch to the room's appearance and should be handled with the utmost care. Color is the dominating factor in this, but use is also fully.

In selecting draperies it is important that the colors emphasize and bring out the dominant hue of the room where drapes are to be hung.

ROUNDED CORNERS POPULAR, MODERN

Manufacturers of machinery making round corners much have been doing a thriving business in recent months judging from the newest streamlined furniture. Round corners are the distinguishing feature of many of the modern suites which is a radical departure from the vogue a few seasons ago when sharp corners were apparent in just the same way.

WINDOWS NEED COLOR IN WINTER

Warmth may be suggested by drapery colors as much as by material itself. Additional color needed more in winter than summer because of the additional warmth it gives. The windows and curtains filter much of the winter sunlight and the drapes should accentuate the sun that do come into the room.

An armchair or a rocker, a chest of drawers, a desk, a small table, a chair, a lamp.

The floor coverings most used in bedrooms today are plain rugs or carpets—usually in very beautiful light colors. In the most formal type of room hooked type all-over patterned carpeting or in a simple informal room several small rag rugs.

Purpose of Contest to More Quickly Introduce to Your Home This Latest Amazing "No-Scrub" Soap Discovery by the Makers of Gentle Ivory... OXYDOL!

Here it is... "Hidden Gold"! The most unique and fascinating contest of the year! Just like an interesting game, and yet you have an opportunity to win $5,000 cash first prize, or one of 702 other cash prizes!

The reason we offer these large cash prizes is to induce more women to try OXYDOL... the Ivory soap people's latest amazing "no-scrub, no-boil" laundry soap. In the orange and blue "bull-eye" package. OXYDOL is often called the "miracle soap of modern science," because of its great difference in action and results.

OXYDOL FEATURES

Combining speed and safety in a way no single soap has done before, it does these four amazing things:

(1) Soaks out dirt in 15 minutes, without scrubbing or boiling. Even grime spots come white with a gentle rub between the fingers. (2) Gets white clothes 4 to 5 shades whiter than other soaps, proved by scientific tintometer tests. (3) Cuts washing time 25% to 40% in tub or machine. (4) Yet so soft that every washable color comes out sparkling and fresh, and your hands stay soft and white. Even sheer cotton prints have been washed 100 consecutive times in OXYDOL suds, without perceptible sign of fading.

In addition to its marvelous results, OXYDOL is economical, too. Tests show that it will go 1/4 to 1/2 again as far as even the latest soap chips on the market.

Remember, just by trying this marvelous new soap, and entering this simple contest, you have an opportunity to win $5,000 cash first prize, or one of 702 other cash prizes. See instructions at the right, and get busy at once! Don't delay—for this contest closes definitely at midnight, November 14. Start now!

New Fruit Shipments Add Variety To Market Here

Florida oranges are high and will go higher dealers say until Florida begins to ship out its oranges. The peach season is virtually ended and dealers predict that the market will be supplied with no more after this week or next. The present supply comes largely from California.

New crops of dates, fresh figs, apricots and peaches also reached Marion this week. New coconuts are also beginning to appear.

Cool weather recently in Marion and vicinity has caused a scarcity of home grown produce on the local market especially of tomatoes which are usually the first plants to show the effects of frost.

Local lima, green and wax beans are also becoming available.

2 SLOT MACHINES REPORTED STOLEN

SPECIAL TO THE STAR

RICHWOOD Oct. 2.—Two slot machines were taken from the Treva room Wednesday night. The discovery of the theft was made by Mrs. Nye when she returned to the tea room about 9 o'clock after closing at about 8:30 p.m. She returned on an errand and found the machines gone. Entrance had been gained by breaking glass in a rear door and reaching in and locking the door. The marshal was notified at once but no trace of the robbers has been found.

BAPTISTS TO HOLD SESSION NEXT WEEK

District Association Arranges for Two-Day Meeting at Prospect Church.

The annual meeting of the Marion Baptist association will be held next Tuesday and Wednesday in the Prospect Baptist church.

A varied program to interest the churches which make up the association will be given by men familiar with their subjects.

The interests of the rural churches will be presented Tuesday morning by Rev. Ray McMillen of the Mt. Gilead Baptist church. Rev. J. P. Schmink of the Marietta Congregational church will lead a discussion of problems peculiar to churches in rural communities.

Wednesday morning the interests of Christian education as it relates to the local church will be presented by Dr. F. W. Stewart, professor of Bible at Denison university in Granville. The morning sessions will start at 9:30.

The Tuesday night session will be presided over by Clyde Smith of Trinity church, Marion. The closing session Wednesday night will be given over to the young people with Rev. E. W. Bloom, pastor of Lincoln, as the speaker.

Rev. W. E. Hayden of the Radnor Baptist church is moderator of the association.

Reunion Set for Fairview Church, Closed 10 Years

One of the oldest churches in western Marion county will be opened for a homecoming Sunday when former Sunday school pupils and members of the old Fairview Methodist Protestant church four miles south of La Rue gather for the first time since the church was closed for services more than 10 years ago.

Residents of the community believe the church is about 100 years old. Since it was closed for worship it has been used as the meeting hall of Bowling Green grange.

A former pastor Rev. B. F. McKinnon who is pastor of the Richmond M. P. church will be present.

A basket dinner will be served at noon and in the afternoon there will be an informal program of talks and reminiscences.

Four women two of them of Marion who formerly lived in the vicinity of La Rue started the homecoming plans and are taking an active part in promoting the day's activities.

They are Mrs. Gladys Debolt, president of 185 Olney avenue; Mrs. Hazel Spicer Thomasson of 235 Olney avenue; Mr. Mildred Thompson, daughter of south of La Rue; and Mrs. Blanche Hurd Little of south of La Rue.

The Stars Say—

For Saturday, Oct. 3

A VERY lively and progressive day is forecast from the predominant planetary directions. A notable event will be a connection with "big business," corporations, rings, secret societies and diplomatic or political circles.

Deal with these and seek the counsel and co-operation of elders. Much will be gained by both business and private correspondence.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a very pleasant, progressive and prosperous year with very profitable connections.

Charles Lemke, William Hobson and Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Forry visited a few days with relatives in Champaign, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Sindlinger and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Forry spent Sunday in Athens.

The Stars Say—

For Saturday, Oct. 3

A VERY lively and progressive day is forecast from the predominant planetary directions. A notable event will be a connection with "big business," corporations, rings, secret societies and diplomatic or political circles.

Deal with these and seek the counsel and co-operation of elders. Much will be gained by both business and private correspondence.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a very pleasant, progressive and prosperous year with very profitable connections.

The Wrong Murderer

By HUGH CLEVELY

she was going shopping" went on the inspector. "She left the house— and disappeared. Am I to understand that simply on the spur of the moment she went off down to her friends' house in Sussex without bothering to let anybody know and without taking any luggage?"

"It seems like it doesn't," said Lee Ramsden, carelessly. "That's the story she told me."

"Do you believe that story?" asked Inspector Kennedy.

Lee Ramsden smiled.

"My dear fellow, whether I believe the story or not is quite beside the point," he answered. "As Miss Fraser's guardian I keep a very careful eye on all her financial investments—she will come in to a large fortune when she is twenty-one you know. But so far as her personal behavior is concerned she has complete liberty to please herself what she does."

A somewhat cynical old gentleman thought Inspector Kennedy's "to your ward the kind of girl likely to indulge in rash and impulsive actions" asked the inspector.

Lee Ramsden smiled again.

"I wouldn't exactly call her a milk and water miss," he replied. "If she particularly wanted to do anything I imagine she is the kind of person who would do it and damn the consequences. I hope so I hate timid people."

"And you think her story about staying with a friend in Sussex may not be the truth?" pursued the inspector.

"I don't think about it at all," I don't concern me whether it's the truth or not," answered Lee Ramsden. "And unless my ward has been up to something criminal" much I suppose. Only I've knocked about the world a good bit in my time and kept my eyes open, and there are signs by which one can often tell a dope addict."

"The eyes and muscles of the face," suggested the inspector.

"Yes," agreed Lee Ramsden. "And a certain habit of boasting. I remember him telling me that he and a friend of his abroad had hit on the easiest and quickest way of making money ever invented. He wouldn't tell me what it was. Not that I was particularly interested."

"He and a friend of his abroad," echoed the inspector. "He didn't mention the friend's name I suppose?"

"No. But I imagine he meant Mahony. Mahony was in China at the time and it was always saying what a fine fellow he was answered Lee Ramsden.

The inspector asked no more questions. He departed in a very thoughtful mood. Lee Ramsden watched him go with a smile of satisfaction. His thoughts were disturbed by the entry of Mullins the butler.

"Miss Ruth just rang up sir," he announced. "I didn't disturb you because you were busy with the gentleman. Miss Ruth is bringing a friend, a Mr. Mahony to lunch."

Bringing Mr. Mahony to lunch? "she" said. Lee Ramsden. That's excellent—excellent. Mr. Mahony is a gentleman whom I am particularly anxious to meet. I shall have to try to think of something really bright with which to entertain him.

After leaving the little house Ruth and Mahony got into Ruth's car and drove to a small cafe in the Kings Road. They found an empty corner and sat down. Mr. Mahony ordered coffee.

Ruth glanced speculatively at him.

"You're angry with me aren't you, she said."

"No," said Mahony. "No perhaps you're not. She admitted. You don't look really angry. Just a little pained and grieved and terribly pitiful. I suppose you think I'm an awful half-wit."

"Well—yes I do rather," said Mahony. "You are an imprudent effort that story you put up about us at the little was quite a bright effort. But what good is it going to do? All that stuff about me fetching you from the cottage—the inspector will disprove that in no time. And what are your people going to say about it? It seems to me you've got yourself into an awful mess up."

"No worse than the mix up I was in when you fetched me out of that house," she answered. "And I couldn't very well stand by and see you arrested for a murder I knew you hadn't committed. You see my guardian has told the police that I was staying in the country with Anne Dawson. He wouldn't believe that I'd been kidnapped."

"He wouldn't believe you'd been kidnapped?" echoed Mahony. "Then what on earth did he think you'd been doing?"

Ruth gave him a brief account of her interview with her guardian the previous evening and her arrangement with Anne Dawson.

"That's why I and all the rest about you bringing me back from the cottage in your car," she finished. "What else could I say?"

"Nothing very much," admitted Mahony. "But it's an infernally complicated situation."

"It was an infernally complicated situation and he simply could not imagine what was going to happen next."

"I wonder what your guardian is going to have to say when he finds out what's happened," he observed.

"Why not come back to lunch and I'll meet him and find out?" said Ruth. "After all, I've told the inspector that we were pretty friendly. We'd better act up to it."

"I'll come," said Mahony. "Though it's rather problematical whether I shall stay to lunch."

Lee Ramsden shrewdly sums up the case against Terence tomorrow.

Married Comrades

By ADELE GARRISON

Women Go Into Action as Suspicious Mount Over Uncle.

LILLIAN did not need to elaborate upon her reason for not wishing to summon one of our men from Dicky's room where he, Harry Underwood and my father, supposed twin brother were putting the bound man into the car. We suspected was something very much resembling a "third degree."

I could visualize what she meant with no trouble at all could see Dicky or Harry left alone with my father's supposed brother could see him throw off his mask of age if what Lillian vaguely feared was true and freeing the bound man, make a desperate fight for what?

Lillian gave me no chance for further speculation.

"Well go up together and give them this prompt," she said. "Now I'm going to do something else on my account. They'll probably kill me but my shoulders are broad."

She turned to Miss Whitlock.

"Will you please go directly to the living room and tell Kate that she is to have Jim come to the hall just outside Mr. Graham's door? It is not to knock. We will meet him there and tell him what to do but he is to bring the gun with him. Wait."

Miss Whitlock had already snatched for the door but Lillian's hand halted her.

"Before Jim comes upstairs he is to go outside and bring on of the guards inside—tell him the one who can be most easily spared from the positions outside. He is to post the gun at the foot of the stairs. We'll tell him what his duties are when we come down stairs. That's all I think."

"I'll go at once," Miss Whitlock said and was out of the room on the word. Lillian went back to the desk again.

"I'll just add a word or two to this she said," telling them what we were doing about Jim at the guard. Then they'll know on what they can depend."

Helps Madge Operate

She was scribbling as she talked when she came back to the door an instant later. I saw that the single page unfolded was filled with cryptic combinations of words in her large legible handwriting.

"Come on!" she said. "Well hand this over and then come down again as soon as we've seen to him and the extra guard."

She put her arm underneath my elbow as we hurried down the corridor and up the stairs. I was kind of the support which I was sure she knew I needed for the possibilities of my father's death a danger for my husband at the hands of this supposed Uncle Chester were thinking me solely taking every reserve of physical and mental strength I possessed.

We stopped outside my husband's door and I heard my husband's voice saying: "If we had heard no sounds I am sure we both would have battered down the door if we could have obtained entrance no other way."

But we heard Harry Underwood's voice talking in the prisoner's language repeating some question over and over—I could tell by the repetition of similar sounds—and receiving only silence for an answer.

I guess well have to let him have it," she said, and she turned to go.

anly but with grim determination and knowing we must wait no longer, I knocked peremptorily on the door the special knock which my husband and I always use in entering each other's rooms.

"What the devil?" I heard him exclaim under his breath and then he came to the door holding it open only a crack, so that we could not see inside.

"Give this to Harry now," I told him to read it immediately. "You don't need to worry Madge and I are going downstairs again at once. But Harry must read that before you do anything more."

Edison Gridders Win Opener in Junior High League

WIN BY 13-7 SCORE FROM VERNON HIGH; 300 ATTEND GAME

Program Seen as Developer of Material for Harding Varsity Team

BY CHARLES HOSKETT
Marion's first junior high football schedule—the foundation on which school athletic officials hope to build stronger varsity squads—was launched yesterday afternoon at Harding stadium as Edison Junior High Gridders edged out the Vernon Heights Junior High team 13 to 7 before a crowd of spectators estimated at more than 300.

School officials and followers of the Harding team heralded the game as a forward step in enlarging the scope of the school's athletic program and as the ground work for stronger varsity teams in coming years.

Edison players clad in uniforms of blue and white took the offensive by scoring the initial touchdown early in the second period. Edison fullback broke through center for 13 yards and the touchdown after a march down the field from the Edison 42-yard marker. He added the extra point on a line play and the Blue and White Gridders registered another touchdown in the third period.

Marion Shovel Team To Play Cardington Club On Foe's Field

Diggers Book First Sunday Game Away from Lincoln Park Diamond

Marion Steam Shovel A. A. A. football club will play on a foreign field for the first time this season by traveling to Cardington Sunday afternoon. The Shovel squad previously defeated the Cardington Merchants 12 to 10 on the Lincoln park diamond.

Cardington players and followers are of the opinion that the Diggers would not prove to be much of a threat, aggregation away from their home lot and the game was looked as the result of a challenge received here. J. V. Shoup, manager of the Shovel team said the M. S. S. club will return to its home diamond the following Sunday when the Fountain Drug team of Columbus comes here for a contest set for 2:30 o'clock. The Capital City nine copied first place in a tournament held here last week in which the M. S. S. club defeated the Columbus Independent and Little Tavern team of Little Sandusky were the other contestants.

District Baseball Tourney To Be Staged in Marion Sunday

Marion's Independent baseball club and three other teams from this district will clash at Lincoln park Sunday afternoon in a tournament it was announced today by Albur Harroff, manager of the Marion nine.

Little Sandusky, Iberia and Broadway will invade the north side stadium for the tourney competition drawings for which will be made at 12 o'clock Sunday. The victorious teams in the first round will meet in the tourney final as the third game on the program.

Morale's old time battery William Koonitz, 53 and Samuel McIntire 57 will augment the forces of the Independent team for the tourney play. McIntire usually does the hurling and Koonitz the receiving but the battery is reversible and is expected to aid the Independents not a little in their try for top honors.

All of the clubs will have their regular lineups with but one exception. Manager Harroff said Elmer Smith former Cleveland infielder and the only player ever to clout a home run with the bases loaded in a World Series game will be on the Independent's lineup. Harroff said Smith's claim to distinction was acquired when he smacked a circuit clout in the first inning of the fifth game of the Cleveland Brooklyn series in 1920. By the Buckeyes Slight Favorite Although Outweighed, Dayton To Play at Delaware.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 2.—The Violets of New York University 39 of em and very husky arrived in Columbus this morning and planned an afternoon practice session at the Buckeye stadium in preparation for Saturday's clash with Ohio State in the opening game of the season for each team.

The game is expected to attract a crowd of 50,000 or more.

Coach Mal Stevens of the invaders was uncertain about a couple of his starters as was Coach Frank A. Schmidt of the Buck, but the Violets had an edge in weight.

no matter which way the game decided.

Ohio State always the "favorite" around the cap as it could explain just why the cadets will put a 194-pounder in the ends, against the 191-pound forward wall, while Gotham backs will average pounds to 172 for the home team.

Last year each team won six of eight games. Ohio 1-7, Notre Dame and New York 1-7.

Another top-notch game was this weekend in the Buckeye contest between Dayton and Wesleyan at Delaware. A 1-0 Dayton defeated the highly rated Bishops by 13 to 0 and Wayne is out for revenge.

Chiles made the second goal on scrimmage play from the 11 yard marker after Walters had placed the ball in position with a 25 yard run. The try for the extra point a line smash failed. Undaunted the fighting Marion and Gray team of Vernon staged a brilliant come back by taking to the air to score in the same period.

Howard's 25-yard jaunt from the Vernon 40 yard line and two passes Blum to Irvine gained the touchdown. Howard added the extra point with an end run as the third period finished with Edison leading 18 to 7.

Both teams battled gamely during the final period and Vernon waded down into the opponents' territory but lost the ball when Chiles intercepted a pass.

Coach Hannuhs sent a slightly heavier Edison team on the field than J. Fugate and Vernon men for could match. The Edison back field men broke away early in the game for long runs and piled up six first downs before the half. Vernon made two first downs during the first half and came back strong to record five in the final quarters. Edison however maintained a slight lead with three first downs in the last half.

First Quarter
Chiles Edison fullback booted the opening kick off which was received by Blum on the Vernon 30 yard line. After three line attempts failed, Irvine punted and Walters received for Edison and returned seven yards to his own 42 yard line. Walters got away around the right side for a 24 yard run and Edison added another first down at scrimmage before Chiles fumble was smothered by a pack of Vernon players.

Irvine's quick kick was received for Edison by Walters who was stopped on his own 42 yard stripe. Thaxton went through center for eight yards and Chiles added five for a first down on Vernon's 48 yard line. Vernon was penalized five yards for offside and Walters placed the ball on Vernon's 30 yard marker in two line attempts. Harroff Edison right half broke away for an 18 yard run as the quarter ended.

Second Quarter
Chiles picked up five yards at scrimmage before he broke through center for a touchdown. He added the extra point on a line play to give Edison a 7 to 0 lead. Blum received and returned Chiles kick off eight yards to the Vernon 37 yard line. Howard went through for nine Blum's pass was incomplete and Reichardt made it a first down on the Vernon 45 yard stripe. Edison received an offside penalty of five yards. Reichardt

RICHMAN BROTHERS CLOTHES MAKERS SINCE 1879

MADE BY OVER 2000 STOCK OWNING WORKERS

BETTER BECAUSE MADE OF FINER, MORE EXPENSIVE FABRICS

No amount of fine words can alter the fact that clothes are only as good as the materials from which they are made. We know, because we've been making them since 1879.

Ours are tailored mostly from 14 to 15 ounce virgin wool worsteds which is the same as saying they are made of the finest all-wool fabrics loomed in America.

Yes, we pay more money for our materials. Plenty more. But you, sir, do not pay more for our clothes. In fact, you pay less. We know it sounds strange, but remember that we make and sell them ourselves and save you wholesale selling expense middleman's profit, credit losses and delivery overhead... none of which we have in our business.

These savings also enable us to give you richer, sturdier woolsens, a higher type of workmanship, smarter, more individual styles infinitely longer wear and consequently greater all around satisfaction.

Gentlemen, we offer you the nation's standard of quality and value, plus the unrestricted choice of

COME ON, MR. LACEY - WE'LL JOIN TIM, YOUR NIECE AND MR. LOWRY

NO - NOT YET - WE'VE A GOOD HOUR MORE TO HUNT BEFORE SUNDOWN

FOLKS, I THINK WE'D BETTER RETURN TO SPLIT-ROCK TO MEET UP WITH THE OTHER PARTY

YOU'RE RIGHT, TIM - I KNOW GREGORY'S ARM MUST BE PAINING HIM -

THEY SHOULD BE SHOWING UP PRETTY SOON -

YOUR WORRIES ABOUT MY SAFETY HAVE PROVED GROUNDESS, GREGORY

I HOPE SO, LORA, BUT THE DAY ISN'T YET OVER

IF WHITEY LEWIS AND HIS GANG ARE IN THE VICINITY OF SPLIT-ROCK - THE HUNTING PARTY'S IN DANGER

Thimble Theater

YOU MEAN TO SAY YOU WEREN'T IN THE FORWARD HOLD A CERTAINLY NOT! MINUTE ME - I GOT SUMPIN' TO DO

LISTEN, JEEP, I YAM SURE YER A LIAR, BUT ANYWAY GIMME THE DIRECTION - POINT TO WHERE ME POPPA IS AT

JEEP I YAM GETTIN' SICK OF YER MONKEY BUSINESS - NO MATTER HOW THE SHIP'S HEADED YA ALWAYS POINTS FORWARD

WE GHOSTED OUR WAY CLEAN AROUND THE WORLD. WE MUSTA SCARED CAPN KEEL PERY BAD HE AINT SHIPPERIN' THIS TUB NO MORE

EH, PAPPY

AYE POOKY SAILORS IS ALL SUPERSTITION. WE DONE JUS ABOUT AS WE PLEASED WHILE WE WAS STOW'D AWAY - FREE TRIP AN NOW O' WE'RE NEARIN' BARNACLE ISLAND, WE'LL SOON BE HOME

POOKY WHAT DID YE DONE WITH ME CAP?

Tillie the Toiler

MAC HAS BEEN TURNED DOWN SO MANY TIMES WHEN HE HAS PROPOSED TO TILLIE YOU CANT BLAME HIM FOR BEING CAUTIOUS

THAT'S THE IDEA - I'LL START PROPOSING TO TILLIE WITH FLOWERS

JUST SEND 'EM OUT TO HER HOUSE AND PUT ON THE CARD - FROM MAC

FROM MAC YES, SIR - THANK YOU

THIS IS MAC, TILLIE DID YOU GET THE FLOWERS

OH, YES, MAC

MOTHER LOVED THE RED CARNATIONS YOU SENT HER - SHE SAID YOU UNDERSTOOD THE LANGUAGE OF FLOWERS

Toots and Casper

I'M POSITIVE I LEFT MY HANKY ON THIS COUCH BUT I CANT FIND IT NOW...

I HOPE IM NOT COMMITTING A THEFT IN TAKING JUDY'S HANKY - I WANT IT AS A KEEP-SAKE TO WEAR CLOSE TO MY HEART...

YES, I'M LOOKIN FOR A HALF-SMOKED CIGAR I LEFT ON THAT ASH-TRAY

I HOPE I HAVEN'T DONE WRONG BY STEALING EZRAS CIGAR! I WANT TO KEEP IT ALWAYS BECAUSE HIS OWN SWEET LIPS HAVE TOUCHED IT...

LET'S NOT GET IMPATIENT! THEY'RE BOTH TOO MUCH IN LOVE TO KEEP IT A SECRET FROM EACH OTHER MUCH LONGER

JIMMY MURPHY

Annie Rooney

REMEMBER, CHILD I AM TRYING TO BE YOUR FRIEND AND AM DOING WHAT I THINK MR BULLION WOULD WANT ME TO DO - THAT'S WHY I MUST ASK YOU TO TELL ME YOUR HISTORY

I GUESS I AINT GOT MUCH HISTORY. I DONT KNOW WHO MY FOLKS WAS - THE FIRST THING I REMEMBER I WAS IN MRS MEANY'S ORPHAN ASYLUM - MRS MEANY WAS AWFUL CRUEL - SHE HATED ALL THE ORPHANS AND SHE HATED ME WORST OF ALL

SHE WAS ALL THE TIME BEATING ME - EVEN WHEN I DONT DO NOTHING - AN' SHE WOULDN'T GIVE US ORPHANS ENOUGH TO EAT - I THOUGHT I WAS GONNA DIE - SO I RAN AWAY

THEN MR BULLION FOUND ME - HE SAID I COULD COME AN LIVE AT HIS HOUSE AN' HE TREATED ME GRAND - GEE, I WISH HE WOULD COME BACK - THEN I WOULDN'T CARE WHAT HAPPENED TO ME - HONEST, I WOULDN'T

Bringing up Father

SIR TAINLY NOT IN THE OUTER OFFICE DO YOU WANT TO SEE HIM?

NO - TELL HIM I'VE GONE HOME - WHEN DID HE TELL YOU THAT?

YOU SAY HE WENT HOME - WHEN DID HE TELL YOU THAT?

JUST THIS MINUTE -

THAT GUY ISN'T A PEST - HE IS FIVE DOZENS OF THEM -

HOW DID YOU KNOW I WAS HOME?

YOUR SECRETARY TOLD ME SO JUST AS YOU WERE GOING OUT -

Polly and Her Pals

GREAT GUNS, GUYS! I GOTTA GIT GOIN'!

YEAH, AN' MY ALARM CLOCK'S BUSTED I HOPE I WAKE UP FER WORK IN TH' MORNIN'!

I HAS A WAY OF GITTIN' WAKED WOT NEVER FAILS

I SIMPLY WRITES MAW A LITTLE NOTE SAYIN' WHEN T'WAKE ME.

WOT'S THAT SAMBO?

AN' THEN I PUTS IT IN ME PANTS POCKET!
